

DRONE VOLT

Two contracts won with RTE

Villepinte, November 21, 2019

DRONE VOLT, an embedded artificial intelligence expert and manufacturer of professional civil drones, has won two major contracts with RTE, the French electricity transmission system operator.

Following a competitive bid tender launched by RTE, DRONE VOLT has been selected for the supply of drones and the training of over 400 drone pilots.

The drone deliveries and training sessions will run from Q4 2019 through Q4 2020 and will represent cumulative billing of over 500,000 euros.

“This contract notably highlights the quality of the training provided by our teams,” indicated Olivier Gualdoni, chairman / CEO of DRONE VOLT. “The group is additionally reaping the benefits of its strategy in the inspection of electrical transmission lines, an area in which it can make full use of its expertise. We are also demonstrating our status as a socially responsible company, with a major impact in terms of ecology and workplace safety.”
